Special Educational Needs and Disability Information Report

The Special Educational Needs and Disability Code of Practice (June 2014) prescribes the information that schools must publish on their website, which must also be available through the local authority's published local offer which can be accessed at www.TheBuryDirectory.co.uk

This document taken from Bury Council, Children Services framework, sets out the Local Offer at St Andrew's C.E. Primary School, Ramsbottom. Every child is valued as a unique individual at St Andrew's. Please don't hesitate to contact Mr Marsh, Head Teacher (01204 822649) if you would like to discuss how this Local Offer affects your child.

At different times in their school life, a child or young person may have a special educational need or a disability which calls for some special provision to be made for him or her.

The four broad "areas of need" are Communication and Interaction; Cognition and Learning; Social, Emotional and Mental Health Difficulties and Sensory and Physical Needs.

How does the school know if a child needs extra help?

Information about pupils is gathered in a wide variety of ways including:

- Information from children's pre-school setting where relevant.
- Sharing information during home visits prior to starting school in Reception.
- Induction sessions involving children and parents before entry into Reception.
- Early Years Foundation Stage data and continuous observation.
- Parental meetings.
- Ongoing assessments by teachers. Outcomes are analysed for attainment and to identify if a child is not making expected progress.
- Pupil Progress Meetings – teachers meet termly with the Head Teacher to discuss how we can support any children who are not progressing as expected.
- Observations by outside agencies where necessary.
- Educational Psychologist reports.

What is the school's approach to teaching children with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND)

- St Andrew's has a fully inclusive policy and is committed to ensuring all pupils receive a high quality education and realise their potential regardless of any challenges they may face. Children with SEND are educated in the classroom as part of this inclusive strategy, but will receive intervention and support by teachers and teaching assistants on a personalised and individual level.
- Parents, staff and children meet to decide targets and areas for development.
- Parents are informed of any support received and given feedback about the progress their child has made. Teachers also regularly meet with parents at other times where necessary and are available to answer any questions.
- We endeavour to communicate with parents formally and informally as needed.
- All staff at St Andrew's provide pastoral support and are available to listen to any concerns children may wish to share.
- Additional support is available whenever necessary for pupils who are vulnerable, and for those that experience a range of emotional, social and behavioural challenges.
- The SEND Link Governor, meets termly with our SENCo, Miss Williams, to review procedures in school.
- We provide a safe and secure environment where children with emotional challenges can thrive.

- Children with a current Education and Health Care Plan receive the necessary support as set out in their plan. This can be through individual support in the classroom, one to one support, and small group work or intervention groups. These support programmes are also used for other children with SEND where appropriate.
- EHC Plans are reviewed annually where both parents' views and the child's views are at the centre of the meeting.

How will the school adapt the curriculum and learning environment for children with SEND?

- Children will be supported in fully accessing the curriculum according to need, which may be through one to one support with a teacher or teaching assistant, access to an intervention programme, or by working in smaller groups.
- Teachers focus on differentiation in their planning, ensuring that work is appropriate for the individual needs of every child. They work hard to ensure that all children are able to access the curriculum successfully while maintaining a high level of challenge to ensure children make good progress in their learning.
- St Andrew's has developed a creative and adaptable curriculum to meet the needs and interests of the children.
- Groupings are flexible depending upon the activity allowing children to work with different members of the class.
